

How to Assemble LakesBloc Mini Guides

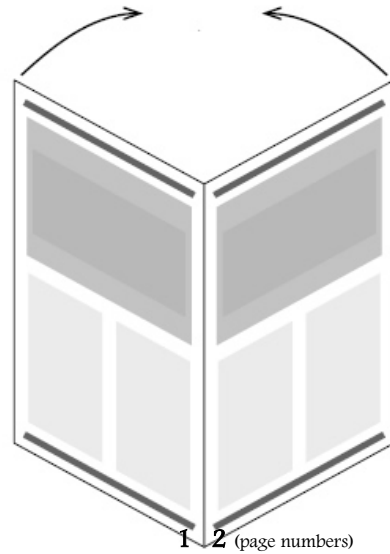

Most of the guides on this site (bar some of the very old versions and few simple landscape style topos) are designed to fold, via some simple origami, into a reasonably sturdy booklet or “mini-guide”.

In folding and affixing the guides together properly you will get many more uses out of them, and also find them far easier to pursue at your leisure and store on your guide book shelf.

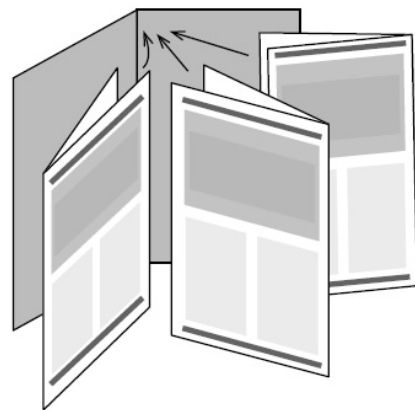

Follow the diagram instructions to the right, in combination with the text below:

1. Fold each of the internal pages individually down the middle so that the printed sides are facing outwards with the numbers also facing out, and being located in the bottom RH corner of each A5 sized half.
2. Package the pages together - making sure they are in numerical order, with the folded central edge facing out.
3. Fold the cover down the “spine” and slot the packaged pages into the inside (blank side) of the cover, to form a more recognisable book format.
4. To secure your guide simple apply two or three staples at equal points down the spine, approximately 0.5cm from the folded edge.

Fold internal pages, print facing out.

Slot in the folded internal pages between the inside of the cover sheet.

Affix the guide via staples down the spine.
